

Deutsche Post International Service Update

Service disruptions due to COVID-19 pandemic

International items may be subject to delays or restrictions due to the COVID-19 pandemic. These may be caused by changes in transport procedures (e.g. border controls), changes in international transport (e.g. cancellation of previously used flight connections) and/or changes in delivery procedures in the destination country (e.g. quarantine or other protective measures).

Please check our Deutsche Post International homepage for update information.

To date, there are no major restrictions to our services to Germany (Destination Germany).

In addition, many of our delivery partners have adapted their delivery processes in light of the current challenges. Delivery services are temporarily suspended to the following countries until further notice.
